Dear parents.

Please see additional notices at the bottom of the newsletter for further important information, including our Christmas diary of events.

Don't water the weeds!

Over the past week in our daily worship we have been thinking about the choices we have and the impact our thoughts have on our actions; reminding ourselves that our thoughts are a personal choice and it is in fact those thoughts that determine how we face the world. We have helping the children to accept responsibility for their own thoughts and deeds and not seek to attribute their behaviors to external factors. It's a good message for us as adults too. As we approach this very busy time of year let us work together to support each other, seek to look after each other and play our part to make the world a more joyous place – full of flowers not weeds! Let ourselves be the difference that we want to see in the world.
